“ Donny “Murph” was a long time friend of my fathers. They fished together and they fought in Korea together in the same fox hole. So many memories were shared between them. He truly was a patriot for his country and a very special man. My family wishes our deepest condolences to the family and pray you find comfort in some way. Another angel I has made a journey. God Bless!

“ I knew Murph since I was a kid fishing on the Esopus creek. I would see him in a “scapping” rig flat bottom boat out on the lower Esopus with the Lawlesses, the Ackerts, all looking for a good place to drop their nets for everything from Smelts to herring. During sturgeon and striped bass season Murph would be somewhere on shore casting a buck tail, spoon rig, or on occasion a chunk of herring on a treble hook. Hunting was a passion for him also, but I asked him what if he could only choose one which would it be, without hesitation he said fishing he loved being on the water. I’m very grateful to have called him a friend and enjoy his company while he would visit his daughter Carol and his son in law Jock, who he loved more than fishing, and anyone who knew Murph, knew that his family loved him and will miss him talking about anything and everything, plus his “old school “ sense of humor, as I know I will. My condolences to his family and friends, Bird (John S Hillje Jr)

“ Hi, I was very sorry to hear about Donny's passing. He was a very good friend from my life many years ago when I was a teenager. We spent a lot of time together at Mary & Vince Crantz's house in old Hurley in the 1950's. I also worked with Donny for years when he was the City of Kingston Plumbing Inspector & I was on the Fire Department. My sincere condolences to the entire family. John E. Reinhardt Sr.

“ I met Murphy my second day out of high school in 1977 when I went to work for Bence brothers plumbing. He had a very quirky way about him. While I worked with whom ever needed the most help (being I was in the beginning of a thirty plus year plumbing career) Murphy was really never in need of assistance being he did mostly service calls. However when he needed help I was the one of three helpers that was assigned to work with him and boy did I have a great day . He was fun to work with and taught me a lot about the service phase of the trade. I left Bence brothers in 1980 and later on in years I found out Murph had moved on as well to become the city of kingston plumbing inspector, When ever we crossed paths he would say hey “ kid”how are you doing ? Remember the old days. Like I said earlier Murph had a quirkinesses about him but was a great mentor and a better friend. Rest in peace you will be missed and always respected and remembered.
